

This workshop will be an interactive and educational event, aimed at understanding local rangeland management priorities and showcasing tools for strengthening rangeland economic and ecological resilience.

Event will include:

- Breakout groups & Presentations
- Discussion themes:
 - Strategies for drought adaptation and increased forage productivity
 - Indicators of rangeland health and soil health
 - Current science on compost application on rangeland
 - Overview of funding sources available for CA ranchers and farmers

Presenters will include:

- Russell Chamberlin, Ted Chamberlin Ranch
- Matthew Shapero, Livestock and Range Advisor, UC Cooperative Extension
- Royce Larsen, Natural Resource/Watershed Advisor, UC Cooperative Extension
- Jeff Borum, Soil Health Coordinator, East Stanislaus Resource Conservation District

Event Details:

June 3rd
9:30 to 11:30 am
Ted Chamberlin
Ranch

The event is FREE.

Coffee and a light
breakfast will be served.

Please RSVP BY MAY 29TH to Allegra Roth at aroth@cecmail.org.

Please call (805) 963-0583 x 104 with any questions.

Community Environmental Council

