To support our agricultural community during this pandemic, the Ventura County Farmworker Resource Program in partnership with Ventura County Medical Center (VCMC) have created a health education program: Cultivating Health in Agriculture. Through this new program, a team of VCMC doctors are available to visit local farms to provide information that includes:

- How to recognize COVID-19 symptoms
- COVID-19 treatment recommendations
- Testing locations and hours
- How workers and families can stay safe
- Many other available resources
